

Student's testimonial

It only takes a moment to discover that study with Stephane is going to be something special. Within minutes, Steph can highlight areas that could use more attention and provides instruction that immediately addresses those areas. With a little time and a little conversation, Stephane is able to put together an entire study program based on your needs and desires that is sure to take your drumming to a higher level than you ever imagined possible. Not only is Stephane an excellent teacher in the craft of drumming but he also incites – or re-ignites – the passion for drumming that is what takes the craft and turns it into art. Stephane is the instructor who can show you how to learn to focus your desire and express your art. Steph travels the world giving demonstrations, Master Camps, and lessons, and now is your chance to have your own one-on-one Master Camp spent in the luxury of Steph's Wizdom Drumshed Quebec studio. Whether you are a beginner or professional, I unreservedly recommend Stephane Chamberland as one of the finest teachers you are ever likely to encounter. I traveled halfway around the world for my first lessons and I'm already making plans for my next visit.

Studying with Steph at his wizdom drumshed is definitely the highest form of drum education I have had so far. Steph is combining his state of the art teaching facility with his incredible knowledge and love of drumming makes for an unforgettable learning experience. He opened my mind to many different ideas, styles, and techniques which allows me to be more prepared for the many varieties of music that I play. Steph always has such a positive and encouraging attitude and pushes me to be my very best. He is always willing to help make my trip easier by finding me a close hotel to stay at or campground seeing as how I live 2000 km away. When I am back home after my lessons he always stays in contact and continues to encourage me in my playing and offers great advice. He sets up the curriculum based on what my needs as a student are which allows me to make great progress quickly. Stephane is the best teacher, player and mentor and has so much to offer. I will be traveling to study with him as long as I can and I would encourage anyone who is serious about taking their playing to a higher level to do the same.

In spending just six days with Stephane, I learned more than I would have in two years on my own. He is an astonishing teacher and his enthusiasm and energy not only help you learn but make you WANT to learn. If you want to advance every aspect of your drumming to the next level, then this is the guy to go to!

Stephane's professionalism and passion for the art of drumming are phenomenal. He has created an incredibly learning friendly environment in his Wizdom Drumshed. Steph thoroughly answered all of my questions and was constantly pushing my playing to the next level. Any drummer would benefit from lessons with Steph.

Taking lessons with Stephane Chamberland has opened up my playing tremendously!! Literally!! I'm leading with my left hand too now!! He had clear and concise explanations for every question I had reinforced with stories of him receiving those lessons with greats such as Jim Chapin and Dom Famularo! He also helped me book a hotel as well as drive me to and from his teaching studio. The studio! Loaded with drum books and drum dvd's! The lessons were filmed and recorded so I could refer back to my lessons whenever I needed to. I left with a great practice routine designed to fit my drumming needs. He also recommended some great books on top of drumset study such as "The Cycle of Self-Empowerment" by Dom Famularo. Excellent book! I strongly recommend taking lessons from Stephane to any drummer serious about taking their playing to the next level.
